It's never too soon or too late to take control.

Life bounces us around sometimes. Everybody has problems. It is how we handle them that matters. Many successful people have weathered difficult times and come out better for it. How did they do it? They all had something called 'resilience'...the ability to bounce back from adversity.

This workshop will take a look at resilience throughout the life span and how we can continue to develop no matter what age we are. As we go through stages in life we face various obstacles. As we navigate through, depending on how we view them, we learn from these experiences and can grow stronger. Join us for an informative look at some of the factors that have been researched and proven to show how we can develop healthier ways of coping and achieve a happier and more fulfilling life.

Simple and effective tools to manage stress effectively and improve our emotional self-care will be explored. These tools enhance our ability to become more aware of our options, make more rational choices and perceive things more accurately.
